NORWAY AND VICINITY

Merritt Frost, who has been engaged in placer mining in the last thirty years, returned to Norway last Monday. This is Mr. Frost's first visit home in that time. He is stopping at his sister's, Mrs. Mary Canwell's. Mr. Frost was accompanied by Mr. Grey, an attendant at the hospital where Mr. Frost has been a patient for some time. Mr. Frost, son of the late Eliza Frost, left Norway in 1883, and travelled out west. He settled in the Couer D'Alene mining district in South Idaho, where he located several claims and worked successfully for many years. Early this year he suffered a severe paralytic stroke and for some time was ill in the Wallace General Hospital under Dr. Herbert Mowery. On the advice of his physician Mr. Frost decided to return to his relatives, and accompanied by a private nurse he made the journey across the continent. He expressed much interest in the tremendous development of the country, since he travelled through it 30 years ago. He stopped off for a stay in St. Paul and visited the state fair there, and another in Chicago and visited Lincoln Park and the Lake Shore drive which he much admired.

Thomas Smiley.

In speaking of Thomas Smiley, who has become the proprietor of the Folsom & Smiley store in Portland, the papers say:— In rising to be head of a series of establishments like his, Mr. Smiley's life seems to be in the nature of a romance, for his handsome store in Norway, is located directly across the street from the place where he started to learn the business 30 years ago and won his knacks and took his hardships as an errand boy. Mr. Smiley is an excellent example of the saying: "Pick out something, and stick to it." Thirty years ago, he entered the employ of a small dry goods store in Norway. He was but an errand boy, called upon to run his legs off, he sweep out the store and to do the thousand and one other things that are the lot of errand boys. But he decided he would not always be an errand boy. He advanced in this store and when came the time when he entered business for himself. It looked like a forlorn hope at first, but he stuck to his task and from the early beginnings, he has built up in Norway one of the finest stores of its kind in New England. The other stores in Maine and Massachusetts have followed as a matter of course. Eleven years ago, Mr. Smiley came to Portland and opened a store at 493 Congress street. He was successful, as he has always been. A year ago he consolidated with the L. D. Folsom Co. when the firm name was changed to the Folsom & Smiley Co. Now he has acquired full control of the business and The Thomas Smiley Co. is sure to be one of the most successful business concerns in Portland. Mr. Smiley has built up his business by giving what he says he will give and by always studying the tastes of his patrons. It is the same policy that has been so successful in the past that will be applied to the business in this latest link in the chain of Smiley stores.

Muriel Anderson of Pawtucket, R. I., is visiting Ethel Lapham.

Miss G. L. Perham of Washington, D. C., is visiting Mrs. E. E. Witt.

Ralph Koesland of Lynn, Mass., is visiting with friends in town.

Geo. H. Witt and daughter Sybil, of Dorchester, Mass., are visiting his brother, E. E. Witt.

Theodore R. McAllister of North Lowell was the week end guest of his aunt, Mrs. M. Richardson.

The W. C. T. U. will meet Sept. 17 at home of the president, Mrs. C. N. Tibbatts at 230. This was postponed from Sept. 17.

Mr. and Mrs. Amos F. Chase of Lynn, Mass., and Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Bumpus of Turner, spent the day, Monday at E. E. Witt.

Lieut. Colonel Bial F. Bradbury, Chief Surgeon N. G. S. M., starts for Denver, Col., Thursday, to take part in a field meeting of U. S. surgeons. He will be absent some ten days.

Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Andrews and son Roland, and Donald, are spending a few days with relatives at St. Johnsbury, Vt., and attended the Sherbrook fair.

A meeting of the Browning Reading Club is called for Monday, Sept. 15, at 8 o'clock at the home of Mrs. James Danforth. There will be special business and a good attendance is expected.

The fire alarm from 135 was rung in at 12:40 Tuesday night which caused some excitement for a time. The fire department turned out soon to find that the fire was in Arthur Buswell's garden and the night watchman seeing the flames rung in the alarm, thinking the place was on fire. Buswell had built a fire about his garden to keep it from being bit by the frost.

The Races.

Tuesday afternoon proved blustering and disagreeable about the grand stand and track. Clouds of dust filled the air, much to the discomfort of a few hundred spectators who braved the cutting wind to occupy the stand or hang over the track fence. Hebron band discoursed good music throughout the afternoon and added a little cheer to the unseasonable conditions. Starter Simmons was on his job early so pulled the race off with his customary snap.

An accident at the finish of the first heat just missed being serious. Short Order ran into a bunch of spectators on the track under the wire, throwing three to the ground in a bad mixup. The horse continued down the track in an ordinary course until the driver fell from the sulky, and went alone without a skip for three quarters of a mile before being secured.

The injuries to the spectators were not severe so far as could be learned but the driver was compelled to lay off with a bruised hand. After this excitement the track was kept clear, with Deputy Sheriff Harry D. Hastings of Bethel on the spot to enforce the rules. As a feature attraction, Carlotta, the guided race horse, owned by Wm. Nelson, went an exhibition mile in 2:30. This event was well received along the course and at the stand.

Base Ball.

Base Ball, Tuesday.

The two old time rivals, Norway and South Paris came together at 1:30 p. m. and there was something doing even though the wind howled with its chilling blast. Considering the weather conditions the boys pulled off a pretty fast game, Norway winning over Paris with a score, 4 to 2.

Neither side was able to claim the victory until the final inning. At that time the South Paris boys started something looked like an extra inning contest. Norway however put on the lid and secured the game. Score:

National Forest Near Us.

What has been done Toward Conserving Watershed from which Streams flow into the Androscoggin, Saco and Connecting Rivers.

Some 100,000 acres of forest and have been approved and purchased under the Weeks law for the White Mountains National Forest. By the beginning of the fiscal year 1914 title to some 500,000 acres of land in the Appalachian and White Mountains will probably have passed to the government, and this area will be put under administration.

These forests are located in a region of large population and their use should be intensive from the first, more so than the gigantic national forests area in the West.
 Experiment stations will be established,
 as funds become available, to handle problems in connection with the management of eastern forests.

Intensive reconnaissance is being carried on in the White Mountains which shall give a very exact account of the quantity and quality of timber and will furnish a more exact basis for efficient management when timber sales are open to the public.

Already a large number of applications have been received from lumbermen by the forestry headquarters at Gorham, N. H., who were to buy timber from the reserve. But the areas upon which sales are pending cannot be opened for use until the forest experts have had time to prepare forest working plans, the object of which is to control and systematize the White Mountain area as a definite base.
 Furthermore, it is necessary that where area be finished in estimates of standing timber and studies of logging conditions before sales can be made.

Uncle Sam is maintaining the general administration policy in the management of these eastern forests as in the west, and their resources will be open for use and development in materials, waterpower and timber.

Cooperate with State Authorities.

Great progress has been made in fire protection by cooperating with the state Forestry department of New Hampshire, the railroads traversing the forests, and the Timberland, Owner's Association.
 This cooperation has added materially to the fire-protective force. Lookout stations have been established and equipped with high-power prism binoculars, telephones and wooden or steel towers.
 Trails have been built for the use of patrolmen; fire-tool stations have been located at strategic points and arrangements have been made to facilitate the rapid purchase and transportation of food supplies and fire fighters to the firing line. Thus with all of these agencies in the White Mountains and other parts of the State, working to a common end, the destructive forest fires that have swept through in the past must, of necessity, grow less.

Throughout the White Mountain forest, vigorous effort will be made to protect game and birds from slaughter and extermination and naturally this forest will become a game refuge and preserve.
 Forest Officers administering this area will hold commissions as deputy State game wardens to enforce the game laws:
 The water power found within the White Mountain area will sometime be of great value to New England.

It is found that many thousands feet of horsepower can be developed from natural stream flow which can be greatly increased by stream regulation and storage at the numerous reservoir sites later on.

The construction of new trails and roads will stimulate the growth of recreation more and more and the demand for sites on which summer camps, hotels and cottages may be located will be rapid on account of the population which now visits the forests in large numbers annually for recreation purposes.

It has been found unnecessary to acquire all of the land within the designated forest area as many valleys of fertile agricultural soil are included which it would not be wise to include.

600,000 Acres is Probable Limit.
 However, at least 600,000 acres of lands
 will be acquired in the White Mountains and there is every reason to believe that this amount will be all that it is necessary to acquire.

In acquiring titles to land it is first necessary to ascertain that at least 15,000 acres in a body and of the right character in land, can be bought. Next in importance comes the location of such land with respect to economy of administration,
 the relative value for timber growth,
 its freedom from defective titles and a reasonable price.

The educational value of this forest will be believed, set up a study camp between the forests outside and those within of the systematically cared-for, utilized and developed condition of a Government forest and the careless treatment of neglected, cut-over and burned forests of private owners.

With careful protection from fire and conservative methods of logging the White Mountain National Forest will become a practical demonstration of forest conservation and, by its example, will eventually bring much of the Appalachian region into a high condition of orest productivity.—[Boston Transcript]

Oxford Pomona met at Hunt's Corner with Round Mt. grange, Sept. 2. The day was fine and a large crowd gathered in the forenoon. Several new members took the fifth degree. At noon a "Bouquet Dinner" was served. In the afternoon they listened to an interesting program consisting of remarks and music. Many saw the flag raising and heard the interesting remarks made by Mr. Perham of Woodstock, then wound up with three cheers for Round Mt.
 grange.

The Ladies' Circle celebrated the 75th anniversary of the organization, Aug. 28, at the Congregational church with the members of the North Waterford circle as guests. Early in the day, a goodly number of old time friends and neighbors were assembled at the church.
 Nearly 100 partook of the bountiful repast.
 The tables were prettily decorated with cut flowers. In the afternoon a pleasing program was given consisting of music, poems written for the occasion and a history of the Ladies' Circle.

A Surprise Party.

On Friday evening August 29th Mrs. Percy H. Nevers's Sunday school class of the Congregational church, were invited to the house of the class president Gladys Edwards, to give Ethel Hardy a surprise party and a farewell reception.

Miss Hardy is to move to South Paris, it is with regret to her teacher and class that she must leave. The evening was spent in playing games, refreshments of ice cream, cake, fancy cookies and crackers were served. All departed at a late hour having spent a very pleasant evening. Miss Hardy was presented with a book of Whittier's Poems.

Among those present were Mrs. Percy H. Nevers, Ethel Hardy, Gladys Edwards, Ethelene Flint, Marion Bradbury, Mildred Curtis, Ethelene Lasselle, Irene Locke, Josie Chase, Clara Shepard and Madeline Nevers.

NORWAY AND VICINITY

Mrs. Sadie Connor of Lynn, Mass., is visiting her mother, Mrs. Sarah M. Smith.

Madeline R. Nevers and brother Paul, were guests of their grandmother Mrs. A. F. Woody at East Standham.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Richardson with Mrs. Richardson's father have taken an auto ride around the White Mountains.

Leo Frost, son of Winslow A. Frost, a young man about 15 years old got a bad wound just below the elbow in the left arm last week. Leo and another young man were out in a boat on Lake Panne-seewassee and took a gun along with them. When near Crockett's bridge, Leo saw game and reached for the gun and drew it toward him by the muzzle. In drawing it over the seat it was discharged. It is thought the arm will be all right in time and it was fortunate the young man was not hit in a more vital point.

From a letter received Sept. 5th from Rev. M. C. Ward we quote the following: "We are all well, the summer on the farm has done us good. Next Sunday is the last of the preaching services here for the summer season. I suppose my furniture was shipped from Norway by Mr. Cushman the first of this week. My family and I go Friday, Sept. 12. We have a heated flat on the first floor of a brick apartment house on the corner of Center street and Greenough Avenue. Jamiaia Plains, Mass., close by the Soldiers monument. Muriel will attend the Bowditch school for girls and Harmon will attend the Agassiz school for boys. Richard will attend the primary connected with the Agassiz school. We are about five minutes walk from St. Paul's church which is at the head of St. John's street."

Thirty-Three Years Ago This Week.
The much wanted rain came with the rain.
Chas. Cummings was taken for a democrat by one of the circus chaps.
An eight pound son is born to Mr. and Mrs. C. N. Tubbs.
A. F. Andrews is again nominated as a candidate for the legislature.
The county commissioners refused to discontinue the new road from Cottage street to the Rumford road.

Thirty-one Years Ago This Week.
Dr. Rodolphus Young has been appointed "weather agent" for this vicinity and reports weekly to the Washington officials. This week the doctor goes to St. Johnsbury, Vt., to visit his mother and H. D. Smith will have charge of the weather. His mother is nearing her 91st birthday. She lived in this town over 50 years.
Dogs are killing sheep. Jas. Bennett has lost 23 and S. I. Millett, 6. Kill the dogs.
H. M. Beare is elected to the legislature.

Thirty Years Ago This Week.
H. G. Dismore has completed a dwelling house on Crescent street.
C. H. Noble has bought the John F. Fitz store and stock. This is the store now occupied by J. H. Fletcher. The building is now owned by C. N. Tubbs. Mr. Noble formerly clerked at the Noyes Drug Store.

A. M. Dunham, Jr., now known as "Melle", the builder of the Peary-Arctic, North-pole, Snow-shoe-shot a fish 84 1/2 inches long last Saturday measuring five feet, eight inches from tip to tip of wings.
F. W. Sanborn and E. H. Brown started on a trip to New Hampshire last Monday. They will be gone a week or more. Sanborn drove his famous tractor "Jerry" which was bought of J. C. Bennett last May. He sold the horse, stored the wagon and harness and came home by train.
L. H. Hathaway has sold his stand at South Paris and is soon to return to Dakota and his brother, T. F. Hathaway, intends to return with him.

Jackson Clark has a new sign in the form of a monster boot nicely lettered in gilt.
N. W. Millett is putting in an 80-foot bridge on the Jackson meadow.
Wright Bisbee and John H. Crockett shot a bald headed eagle near north pond. Wings measured 6 feet, 6 inches from tip to tip. Dr. T. S. Turner will mount the bird and it will find a place among the curios in Cobbler's hall.

O. M. Cummings' dog "Sporty Jones" is dead.

SUFFERED
AWFUL PAINS

For Sixteen Years, Restored
To Health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Moretown, Vermont.—"I was troubled with pains and irregularities for sixteen years, and was thin, weak and nervous. When I would lie down it would seem as if I was going right down out of sight into some dark hole, and the window curtains had faces that would peek out at me, and when I was out of doors it would seem as if something was going to happen. My blood was poor, my circulation was so bad I would be like a dead person at times. I had female weakness badly, my abdomen was sore and I had awful pains."

"I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and used the Sanative Wash and they certainly did wonders for me. My troubles disappeared and I am able to work hard every day."—Mrs. W. F. SAWYER, River View Farm, Moretown, Vermont.

Another Case.
Gifford, Iowa.—"I was troubled with female weakness, also with displacement. I had very severe and steady headache, also pain in back and was very thin and tired all the time. I commenced taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I am cured of these troubles. I cannot praise your medicine too highly."—Mrs. I. A. MILLER, Gifford, Iowa.

Work for Work's Sake.

Do we work because we want the results which our work will bring? That is what many people seem to think. But how many realize that the best part of work is the work itself—that if they could have the results handed to them without any effort on their part they would not care about them particularly? A child accepts its food and clothing and its small pleasure quite as matter of fact; men and women who work for their necessities as well as for their luxuries regard them in a totally different light.

"I wish I had a competent housekeeper who would take very bit of responsibility from my shoulders," cries the woman who has been keeping house for 20 years. But does she? If a competent housekeeper suddenly materialized on her front steps would the other feel rather lost and without occupation? Doesn't she, as a matter of fact, not only enjoy a well ordered house, but also the ordering of it?

"I want flowers every day in my room," says a gardening enthusiast, but if flowers were placed in every room with the regularity and inevitableness of clockwork, would the one who loves them be as happy as she is now when she plants them herself, cuts them, arranges them and cares for them? Who enjoys flowers most, the one who simply sees them or the one who works with them?

A man works for twenty years accumulating a fortune, and he plans what a good time he will have with it when he reaches the time when he will retire. He reaches the age and he retires, and he is dreadfully bored, and finally he has nervous prostration because there is nothing else to occupy his mind. It was not the acquisition of the fortune; it was the acquiring of it that was the great pleasure. The game that is in progress is always more vital than the game won or lost.

We work for the future to come; but the present is the happiest time, for it is here, in our grasp, living, not living. If we but knew it we work, not primarily for the sake of wages, but for the sake of the work itself. It is great fun to have a fine new house to live in, but wasn't it greater fun to plan it and see it being built?

If we are normal we enjoy things not only for what they will lead to but for what they are in themselves; we like to eat, not merely to keep alive but for the pleasure of eating. We like to sleep, not because we need rest, but because it is a delightful sensation. The detail of life as well as the general scheme of life is enjoyable to the one who has the capacity for enjoyment; and play for the sake of work and play for the sake of play are both good in their own special way. It is Stevenson who says it all so gracefully when he observes that "to travel hopefully is better than to arrive."

How to Care for Your Horse.
The following excellent rules for the care of the horse were sent by Mr. Charles A. Hamlin, Rochester, N. Y., who has published them in a leaflet for distribution among drivers:
Driver, How Is This?
"As a man sows so shall he reap."
If you are smartly struck each time you strike your horse, would he get half as many blows as now?
Why is not needless pain?
Is not contemptible to distress your horse with check-rein, blinders, overloads, hunger, thirst, etc.? Does it pay?
Has not your horse as good a right to be happy at his work as you have? Why not?

CHILTON PAINT

It is a Pure Linseed Oil Paint. It contains no Benzine or Naphtha in any form. Its record for durability is not surpassed. It has been used here in Norway for 20 years. It covers more, covers better and wears longer than many other advertised brands.

It really costs less than paints sold for less money, for it must be thinned with Linseed Oil or Turpentine before using.

Try it this year and you will always demand it.

The Halls.

N. Dayton Bolster & Co., of South Paris had their usual space and show from their store, rugs and floor coverings, wall papers on the wall that all may see, crockery ware and furniture. The Norway Grange decorated in corn color, green and white. Those in charge: Phil Stone, Mr. and Mrs. M. A. Dunham, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur C. Buck and Fred Lovejoy. The pictures, vases, plants and caryons are all by the members. One, a crayon of deer as shot by Alpheus and Fred Lovejoy, with the two men, attracted much attention. The hand-hammered brass plaque of Lafayette exhibited by Helen Noyes is fine. The canned goods excel and there was an abundance of fancy work but best of all was the cheese, butter and farm products. Mrs. Charles Richardson made the fancy pink, green and white frosted cake with the natural rose. The food case was banked with flowers and plants.
Mrs. Katherine Kairo of Methuen, Mass., has Mexican drawn work, fish crochet work and Gypsy lace.
West Paris Grange decorations on white with evergreen, hennel, and other greens. Over the center a large from hall of evergreen and hydrangeas. A china mosaic stand, and a round knit rug by Mrs. Loretta Churchill, 82 years old, catch the eye. A display of antiques are the most attractive. The yellow traced corn looks good. The L. E. cooked food and grains are of the best.
Paris Grange has dark green cheese cloth on white with a touch of silver. Even the ropes are wound with green. The apples and fruit on the colored cones are arranged in rows on little white covered shelves and gave an unusually tasteful appearance. They show good fruit. A tinder box in which to carry fire, before the days of matches when people lost their fires in the fireplaces, is owned by E. P. Andrews; also a canteen carried at Bunker Hill in 1776. The potatoes are large and of uniform size. The cake with the little rose was made by Mrs. S. E. Jackson. Those in charge are Mrs. Clara Peterson, Helen Hammond, Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Hicks, Mrs. Annie Wheeler and Albert Ryerson. In the fancy work are the autumn leather centerpiece with painted nut maple leaves and the raffia baskets. I am a thick meaty pumpkin. How is it with you? "My mother was a Hubbard. What is your pedigree?" Say this two pumpkins.
Mrs. F. S. Farnum, West Paris had a display of millinery. The crowns are lower than have been for a change. Every thing is along the rough lines like the coats and suits. She also had fancy goods.
Frederick Robie Grange of Otisfield Gore had decorated in white with pink cheese cloth fixings. Braided and hooked rugs, wool rolls and useful and wares knit goods, burnt work and embroideries vie with the farm products, grains and grasses and there was fine looking fruit. In their food display was honey and cheese. Those in charge are Mrs. N. W. Greene, Mrs. Martha Ordway and Mrs. Lulu Taylor.
E. W. French of Boston had leather novelties in burnt work "while you wait." Two displays, one upstairs and one down.
The fruit keeps up the reputation of Old Oxford County. "Nothing better in the fruit line." The tables were full of fruit and groaning. B. F. Richards of Paris has had change seven years and what he does not know about it is hard to be told. There is about a quarter of a crop this year and the exhibit fills only about one quarter in extent of hall space occupied from last year.
The general fancy work department was in charge of Mattie Richards of Paris and Mrs. Phil Bradbury of Norway. They have been in this position a long while and are thoroughly understanding the need and requirements, just how to place the articles to look well. The decorations are of heliotrope and white. Sofa pillows—crochet by Mrs. G. A. Allen, Norway; cigar labels, Mrs. C. G. Miller, South Paris; darned, Mrs. E. A. Robie, South Paris; Gingham in waves Mrs. F. E. Roys, Oxford; embroidered, Florence Parker, Grafton; fancy labels on felt or satin by J. P. Richardson, Mrs. C. L. Morrill, South Paris; Emma Swan, Norway. Charbel DeCosta, Norway, one art embroidery and one in Bulgarian. Mrs. John Lasselle, Norway, art embroidery, a wreath of natural looking asters; Mrs. J. P. Richardson, South Paris, Bulgarian work; Mrs. L. H. Trufant, Norway, cross stitch.
Head painted china. Mrs. H. F. Andrews. The wall in wild roses was handsome. Mrs. C. G. Miller of South Paris had some dainty hand painted work.
Gladys Abbott of Norway had a crayon picture of deer in winter, and roses in water colors.
V. Akers, Norway had a large framed oil picture of a winter scene in Oxford county, showing the Oxford hills and the fine display of color on sky and snow.
Nellie L. Andrews, Norway, a painting "and 'twas there that Annie Laurie gave me her promise true" that showed the costumes of that time, a bold and picturesque landscape; the girl looking longingly out from the barn door; the youngsters fishing; the pine woods; and the country landscape.
Helen Sorber, Norway, a fancy shirt waist made of handkerchiefs with lace insertion; swedish weaving and filet towels by Emma Swan; darned work, punch work and art embroidery, Geneva Sturtevant, Norway; drawn work by Emma Twitcheil, North Paris; cable embroidery on shirt waist by Mrs. C. H. Downing, Norway; Irish crochet, Mrs. Leona Ridlon, West Paris. Mrs. Mary L. Andrews, Norway, had lovely drawn work; Mrs. Alma Bailey of Norway, a set of underwear in crochet and knit shawl; Mrs. Fred Rowe had also a knit shawl. Mrs. J. F. Hutchins of Norway, a white dress in art embroidery, white chrysanthemums, fancy embroidered aprons.
Center pieces galore and art embroidery of all kinds, more than could be counted in a long space of time.
The hall was literally hung full of quilts of every kind known to the skillful housewife.
Home-made rugs called forth admiring exclamations.
Mrs. H. F. Andrews, Norway, water colors. A Colonial room with a boy seated in the window seat and a girl spinning flax, a study and to his, two country road scenes, beside a lake and three representing beautiful ladies and children in charming costumes; a marine scene in oil and a basket of cherries. A dainty hand painted white parasols in blue forget-me-nots by Mattie Richards of South Paris.
Reliclike a crochet by Emma Swan. Crochet slippers by Mrs. Mattie Anderson, Norway.

(Communication.)

To the Editor of the Advertiser: Are there any trotting horses in Norway? I am asking this question after reading the list of entries for the Norway fair, published in the Advertiser of Sept. 5, and find that of the 173 entered, there are but two, those owned by James Pledge and Arthur E. Miller.

It was not so many years ago that Norway and South Paris furnished the major portion of horses which gave sport to light harness racing followers at the annual fair which is the pride of Oxford county. Now, it seems most of the horses come from other parts of the earth, various sections of Maine, New Hampshire and other places, but Norway where the greatest of all County fairs are held, has but two lovers of the game fortunate enough to possess animals which seem worthy of appearing in public.

Who can forget the races which horses owned by Tom Thibodeau, Al Williamson, George Young, Put Richardson, and many others from Norway, as well as those owned and driven by Fred Thayer and Frank Young of South Paris, with one or two from Oxford, and which furnished basis for bets of oats and cigars as to the best qualities of each? These events were but a few years back, when Norway and South Paris had the majority of horses entered for the track races at the annual fair. But of late years it appears that Norway and South Paris care nothing for the trotting horse. Perhaps next year neither town will have a representative at the Norway fair grounds.

Mrs. Grant has spent some time with friends at Locke's Mills and at Ramford. Her son made a short visit and they occupied a camp on Round Pond. They returned to Massachusetts, Monday. Dana is a clerk in the cotton brokerage office of Wellington, Seers & Co., of Boston, where he has been for almost two years. He is liking well. Mrs. Grant does nursing and later on will probably make her home with her son.

Seven Hours in New York.

The management of the musical play "Seven Hours in New York" which is billed to appear at Norway Opera House Saturday, Sept. 13, has been particularly fortunate in their selection of the principal members of the company. Each and every one being particularly effective in their respective parts. Miss Irma Croft as "Mrs. Hazel Lee" looks and acts the part to perfection. She is a very pretty woman, and a charming singer. She has two very good musical numbers. She is in charming style. "I can't see you at all" and "Some Other Night" Violet the maid, and an avowed suffragette, is well played by Miss Dottie Leighton. She has a beautifully cultivated voice, and is a danger of ability. Her first and song and dance is the "The Cooking School" is a big hit. He is assisted by eight of the chorus girls. Mr. Henry Alexander plays the part of the prime merchant, Merrill Lee, and plays it admirably, with all the skill long experience brings. Another prominent member of the cast is Will Herbert, the taxi driver. The chorus is the best travelling. They are all pretty young girls, seem to enjoy their work as much as their audiences, and fairly revel in the pretty costumes and scenery. It is safe to say that "Seven Hours in New York" will give splendid satisfaction. The date is fixed for Saturday night Sept. 13.

R. K. Morrill and Son won most everything in the pulling at the Lewiston State Fair.

At the cattle ring the pulling events were the most important. A free for all for any size, and the oxen that won out were the simplest in the lot; in fact they won both sweepstakes, the forenoon being the 7th, 21st, and under.

It was a remarkable feat for one pair of oxen. In the morning they pulled the load 35 ft. 9 in. in just 2 minutes and Mr. Morrill the owner and driver stopped them; the others pulling the full time 5 minutes. By winning both the events Mr. Morrill established a new record for any fair in the State.

He has been in six classes and in five he won first place, and in another second and in one of the five he took second as well as first, and two thirds.

7 ft. 2 in., R. K. Morrill and Son first, 55 ft. 9 in., R. K. Morrill and Son 3d, 35 ft. 7 1/2 in.

Free for all, R. K. Morrill and Son 1st, 49 ft. 7 1/2 in.; R. K. Morrill and Son 3d, 38 ft. 4 in.

Hunt of Waterville, a Norway boy, one of the class of 1913 of Colby College, has just been appointed instructor at the Taunton, Mass., High School and will assume his duties at the opening of the school year this month. He was born and received his early education in Brooklyn, but later came to Maine and was graduated from Bangor Academy in the class of 1909. He then entered Colby and received the degree of Bachelor of Arts at the ninety-second commencement of the college last June.

John Alfred S. Kimball of Norway, is to attend the sessions of the sovereign grand lodge at Minneapolis, and will leave via the Grand Trunk railway the evening of Sept. 11 to attend the meetings which commence the 15. The advance reports of the supreme officers show that the organization has increased 50,180 members, thus making the total membership 2,000,000. The relief work during the year shows that 142,000 members have been aided and 700,053 widows and their families have been assisted to the extent of $5,917,323.15.

Edison Talking Motion Pictures.

Edison's Talking Motion Pictures coming to Norway Opera House, Monday September 29. All hail to the wizard Edison.

These motion pictures possess a scientific value that cannot be attributed to the pictures of the familiar black and white or garden variety. Not only are the pictures shown on a large screen, but the voice and the distinctiveness of the subjects shown is wonderfully realistic.

A complete minstrel performance with an olio is given, with the end men telling their jokes and the comedians singing their songs. The temptation scene is shown, and several comedy pictures are given, including one entitled "Nursery Favorites" where all figures of childhood happy days are made to talk, to walk and to sing. "Little J. Horner, who sat in a corner," "Mother Goose," "Little Miss Muffet," "Jack the Giant Killer," "Old R. Cole that jolly old soul" and the Queen.

Twelve subjects are shown and every one seems to have been selected order to illustrate just what the kinship can do. Only one performance will be given at night.
